LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I read your paper article about Diane P. ... should not be mentioned ... might have been sold at garage sales are assumed "true collectors find" will be less and the antique dealers and collectible people will be picking them up and reselling them at ridiculous prices!!! Lets keep the secret safe at least for a few more years!! Sorry to steam off but I had to say something!!

Heather Wells

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Boy, when I decided to do an issue on buckskins, I didn't realize the volume of material I would be getting. I didn't realize there were so many models. I also learned a great deal about the buckskin horse and believe I appreciate the buckskin and dun a lot more. Thanks yo Vicki, Diane & Cheryl for their contributions. I had to do a little picking and choosing among pictures because I couldn't get them all in.

Also, I received enough encouragement and the Q.M.H.C. will remain a monthly publication, as long as you can put up with occasional? late issues.

Heather Wells also suggested another survey as the last one was in 1983. Anybody else intersted?

I also appreciate Heather's letter and I would like other people's responses. I have my own views, but will wait to next month to air them

I also want to warn subscribers that the Q.M.H.C. is probably due for a rate increase, simply because as the issue size increases, so does the postage, and its killing me. I haven't decided whether it will be subscription, advertizing or both, but I'll let you know next month. I will try to make it a nominal as possible.

Also, a reminder that your subscription renewal date is in the upper right-hand corner of the address label.

HAPPY VALENTINES DAY!!!!

Please buy these horses as they deserve to go to good homes. I will still be looking for horses as I have a lot of your want lists but I am only going to keep a few of my old (and new) favorites. I dont have the time anymore to give the hobby the attention it deserves, but I have made alot of wonderful friends thru the years and hope to keep you all as such. I would love to hear from you from time to time if you would care to write. Thanks for everything over the years to all of you and happy showing.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Questions ???

??? Has anybody received the white flocked unicorn w/ blue mane/tail from J.C. Pennys. Mine is blue w/ blue.

Has anybody received the Ward's Carousel Unicorn?

(Heather Wells)

ANSWERS

In re Lying Down foal pictured in last month's Q.M.H.C.. Lani Keller reports it could be an H-R Morgan "Miss Pepper".

(I forgot to mention that it is a very light palomino. Does that matter?)

DID YOU KNOW

Bentleys has many flocked models (old Sears, penny special Runs plus a chestnut Legionario III (10.49) plus a special flocked Smokey model as a unicorn

(Vicki Steinkamp & Colleen)

ANOTHER QUESTION ???

Where did the 1985 Buckskin Grazing Foal come from ???

(Colleen)

??? My #200 Stevens Bay Q.H. Stallion (Regal) is more of a liver chestnut than bay. Is that the way they came?

(Colleen)

THE BUCKSKIN

The buckskin has been one of the favorite breeds of the cowboy and ranch hand throughout the history of the west and are used in all phases of work and contests. Known for its endurance, stamina, hard feet and strong legs, it is descended, in America, from the ancient Spanish breed called the Sorraia. Even the ancient Norwegian Dun breed of northern Europe, whose blood has infiltrated most of the horse breeds of the world, are believed to be the Sorraia descendants. This lineage was introduced in the American west through the Mustang descendants of the horses of the Spanish Conquistadors.

The buckskin is just one of four colors classified under the term "dun". The others are: red dun or clay bank, which is pinkish or reddish color with dark red legs, mane & tail; Grulla (pronounced Groo-ay) which is bluish or lavender w/ black points; and Mouse or Coyote Dun which is grulla with an even sprinkling of white hairs (salt & pepper) all over the body. Unlike the buckskins, each of these must have the dorsal stripe on its back for registration, however, all, including the buckskin, may have distinctive striping or barring, similar to that of a zebra.

The true Buckskin is the color of golden tanned deer hide (from whence it derived its name) with shades ranging from pale yellow (buttermilk buckskin), beige (champagne), light gold (golden) or dark buckskin, almost bay. All have dark brown or black points. Dapples are acceptable.

Since the buckskin color is recessive, producing a buckskin foal is not as easy as mating two buckskins together. Usually a breeding program involving palominos and duns has to be created, and like palomino it is a question of chance. At birth, the foal is almost creamy white and only becomes darker as it loses its baby hair.

Buckskins and duns have two registries of their own. The American Buckskin Registry Association, founded in 1962, registers all of these colors provided they have good confirmation, which is characterized by that of a stock horse with sloping shoulders, prominent withers, deep girth and good bones and feet, are not of draft breeding, and have no indications of appaloosa or pinto breeding. There also can be no white above the knees, except for the face, and even socks are frowned upon.

The International Buckskin Association, Inc. is limited to all horses over 14 hands, with no ponies, drafters, appaloosas or pintos allowed. Buckskins and duns are also acceptable in some of the other registries such as Appaloosa, Pinto, Q.H. and pony.

BUCKSKIN MODEL HORSES

Prior to 1975, Breyer only produced 5 models in Buckskin color as a part of their general line. These were:

#87 Mustang	1963-present	#111 Western Prancing Horse	1963-1
#98 Q.H. Gelding	1963-1981	#166 Lying Down Foal	1969-1974
		#176 Indian Pony

In 1975 and 76, they introduced the Hobo Mustang, #625 (1975-1981) and the Stablemate Q.H. Stallion and Mare, #5047 and 5050 (1976-present). And in 1984, they added #9015 Lil'Bits Q.H. Stallion.

However, Breyer has also been using the buckskin color for a number of special runs and test colors. Below is a list of those which are known so far:

#50 Adios	(special run)
#153SBu	Grazing Foal (1985)
#226SSeBu	Stock Horse Family (1984)
#46SPBu	J.C. Penny special (1983) bald face solid face made earlier?
#232SPBu	Stock Horse Foal (1983) Pennys
#130SBu	Special Run Running Foal (26 were made)
#101TBu	Buckskin Q.H. Yearling (3 were made. 1969)
#401TBu	Buckskin Buckskot 1985, (6 were made)
#9010TBu	Buckskin Lil'Bit Arabian Stallion
#120TBu	Buckskin Running Mare

And there are probably many others as well.

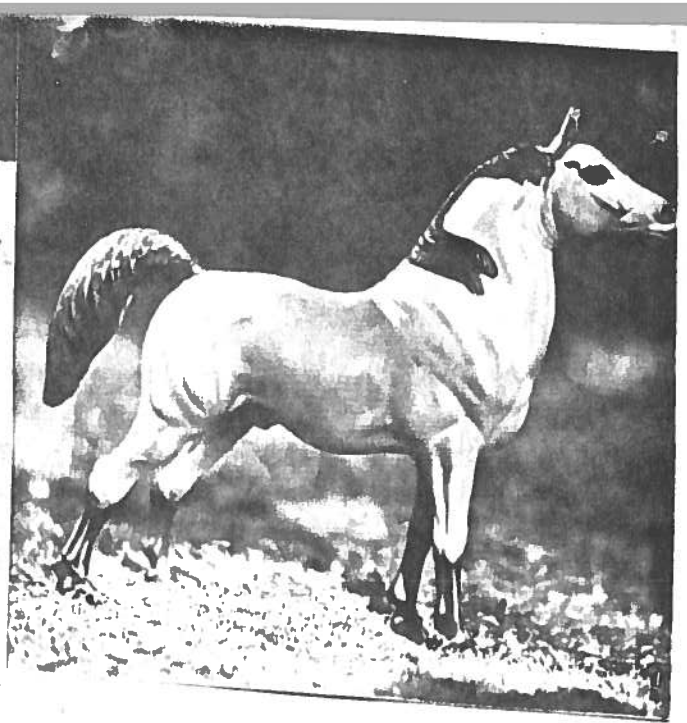

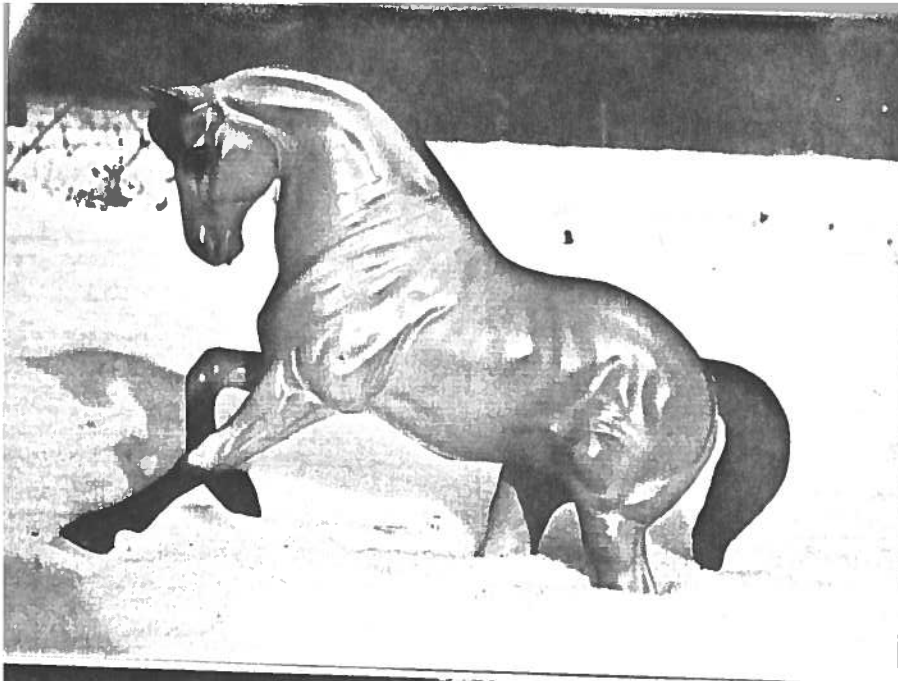

Other companys have also produced Buckskin models. Hartland made the Q.H. family in Buckskin, as well as a grazing mare and polo pony. in the 9" models. There are also several Regal models as well.

H-R has also produced several minis as well as larger models, and Beswick has the Norweigian Dun model.

CHARCOAL HORSE

This is a real charcoal colored horse. She is very dark brown w/ pure white mane/tail. Lani Keller reports the owner has said she was born only a little bit darker. She is 12 now. She does not have any appaloosa ancestry as far as can be told, and has no other appy. characteristics other than her color.

Hey! Have you heard? There's a new newsletter out called The Mane Choice! Still in it's first year, this quarterly newsletter is gaining popularity fast! Each 65-70 page issue contains stories, art, ads, a book review, a questionnaire, information about new & old models, breed information, reader talk, photos, other information such as news from T.M.C.'s registry & of course we have "Fred", T.M.C.'s funny mascot.

T.M.C. is released from the press on the 15th of March, June, September, and December.

Subscription rates are as follows: $3.00 for sample issue
$6.00 for two issues
$9.00 for three issues
$12.00 for four issues (full year's sub.)

Advertising is offered at these rates: $1.00 for full page
(There is no extra charge for photos) 50¢ for half page
10¢ for classified (up to 100 words)

Reducing is offered to save money: Two pages to one page of T.M.C.-$1.00
One page to half page of T.M.C.-50¢

Any articles, stories, ads, drawings, questions, etc. are always welcome.

All material that is to be printed in an issue of T.M.C. needs to get here by these deadlines: The 15th of February for the March issue, the 15th of May for the June issue, the 15th of August for the September issue, and the 15th of November for the December issue.

Write about T.M.C.'s quarterly shows & registry, too!

Please send SASE with all correspondence if possible to: The Mane Choice

LEONA S. COFFEY: BIG GAME HUNTER AND
MODEL HORSE CRAFTSMAN

By DIANE FISHER

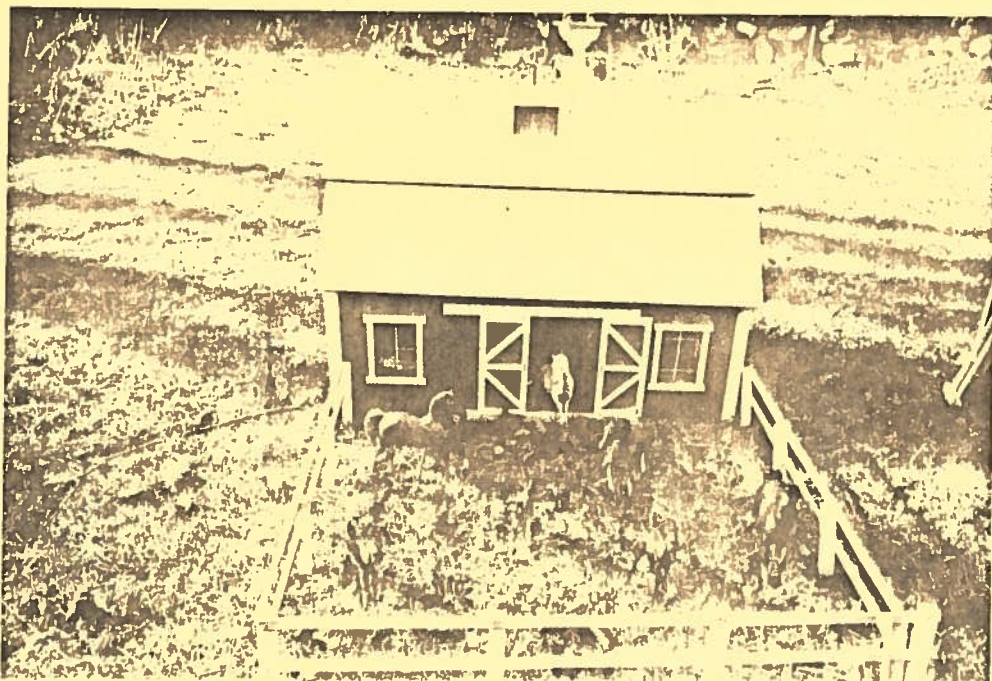

Below is Leona S. Coffey, who has hunted big game all over the world (some of her trophies are behind her) and has crafted model horses throughout the years. She presently runs the OLD FORT SHOSHONE MUSEUM of Shoshone, Idaho . Unfortunately she has sold most of the molds to her models.

BARN AND STABLES FOR MODEL HORSES

By Colleen Brown

Most model horses live on the book shelves of their owners bedrooms, den or horse room. Others, however, may have special homes of their own, which are just the right size to roam. Below, is one such special place. I purchased the barn and stable at a flea market. It also came with a doll house and I suspect it may have been a rich kids toy, F.A.O. Schwartz or a comparable toy shop. Everything comes apart and folds nicely into a pile which can be stored under a bed. When I first spotted it in the flea market, the dealer thought I was crazy about the doll house as he knows I also collect and buy/sell dolls. However, I really fell in love with stable and barn as they are Breyer size.

Barn

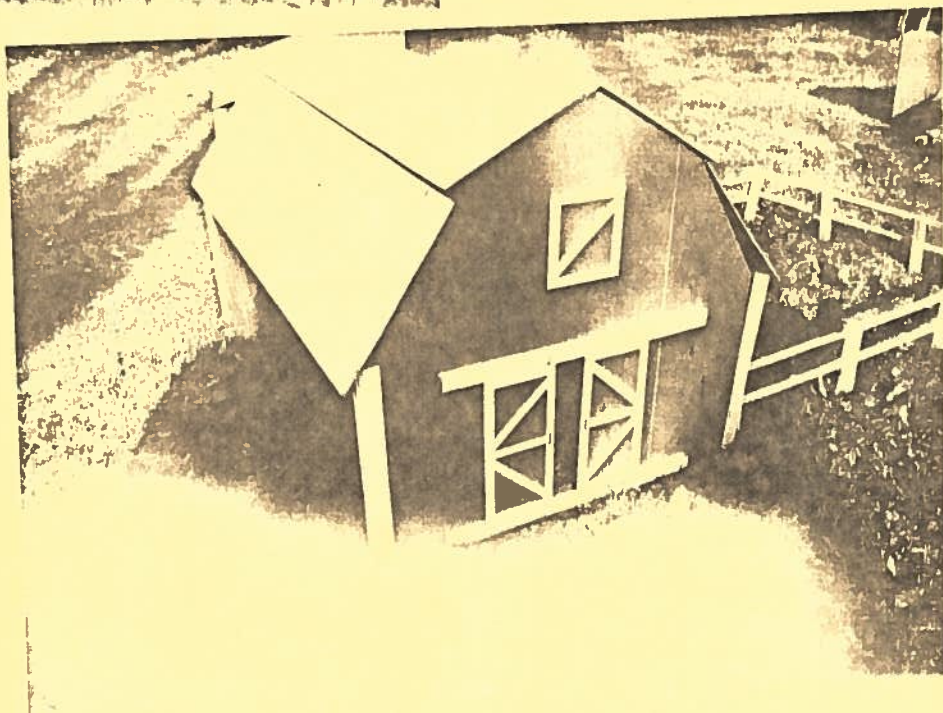

33" long, X 22" high x 22" deep

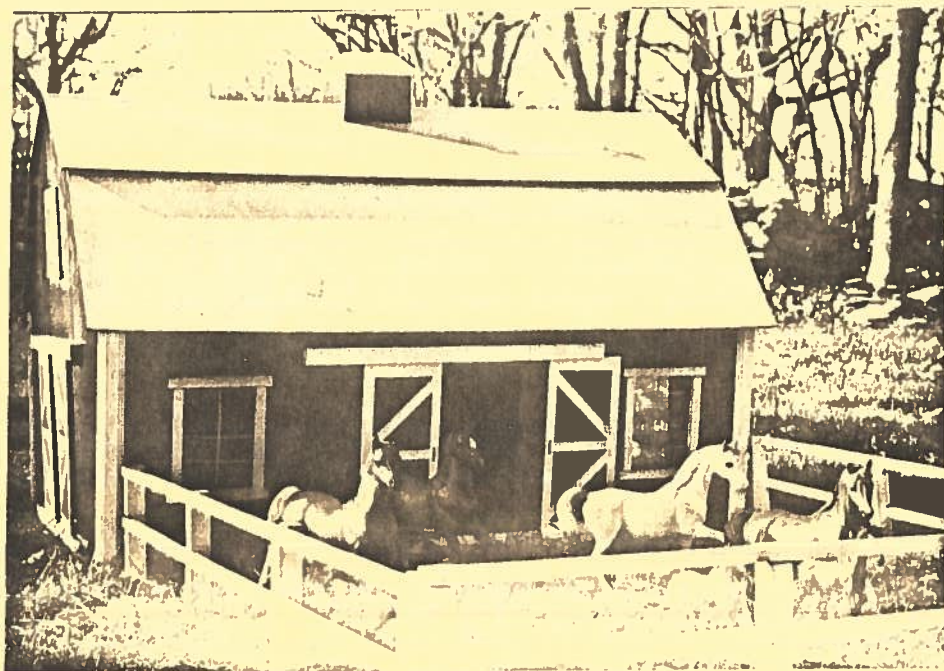

Barnyard red w/ white trim

windows are plastic & doors slide on runners to open

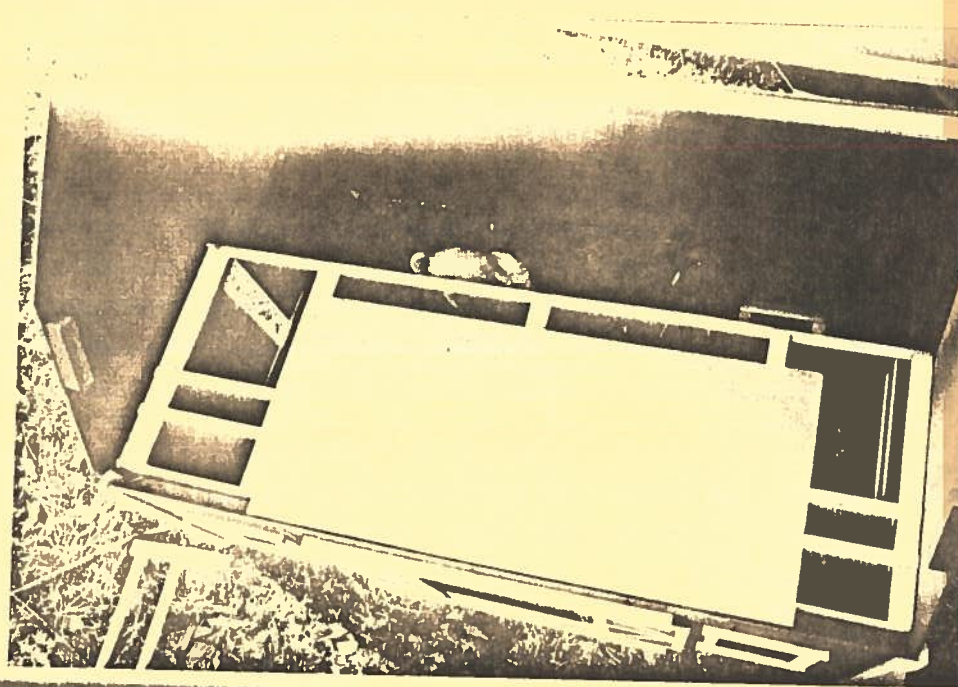

There even is a metal rooster for the weather vane on the cupola.

Side & back view

Interior view showing hay loft and ladder.

Plenty of room to roam

hot at the right angle,
both barn and stable are
the perfect size for traditional or classic
models

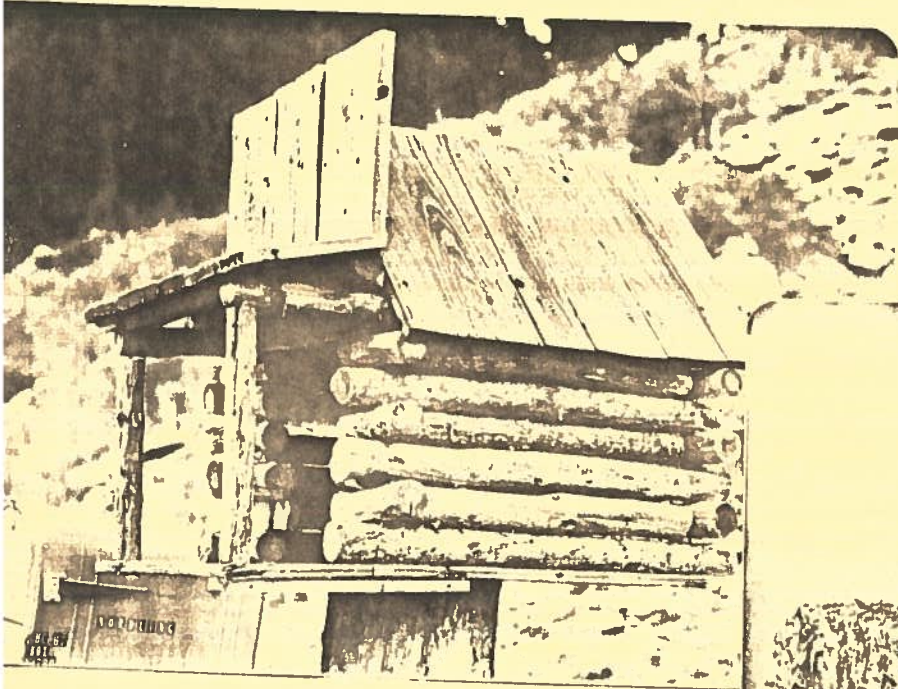

STABLE

Stable has four stalls
with doors that open out
It is 18" high x 33' long x 18" deep. The fence can be used for both

HAND-CRAFTED STABLES

Other model horses are lucky enough to reside in stables which are made by hand with a great deal of love. These were sent in by Diane Fisher.

Stable made from logs.
Theres a lot of work in this.

20 x 20", livery stable
This is a mailbox at a resort
in Clayton Idaho.

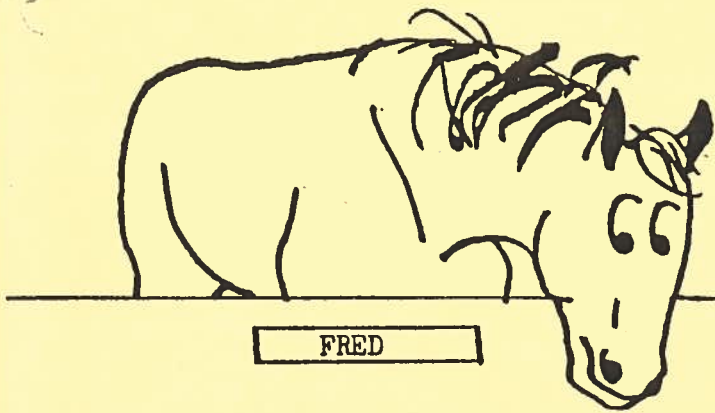

10 x 8 x 12" high Open
shelter w/ hay loft. Made by Diane

24" x 15" stable w/
hay loft roof comes
off. Double doors are hinged- gate opens
